A Cut Above!

Our mission is to provide our clients with GIA graded diamonds with exceptional attention to detail. We only supply diamonds with GIA reports, most with inscriptions. We believe that increased confidence among customers will generate repeat business and referrals, resulting in more sales.

Manufacturing

We are a small manufacturing company with a complete hands-on approach to our production. We produce product in Israel and the United States. We do not produce tremendous quantities, however what we do produce is priced fairly.

Distribution

International distribution has always been a service we provide. If we have a diamond that suits a client's need in most cases we can deliver worldwide within days.

Services

Here at AWDC, we are customer oriented. We know many people have diamonds that are damaged or uncertified. For just this reason, we offer services of remanufacturing or certification through recognized laboratories. From start to finish, we offer the most complete service available. Most others cannot or will not offer the public these services. Our experience and knowledge is at your disposal to help maximize the value of your diamonds.

Certification

Our certification service includes an evaluation to determine which laboratory would best suit your needs, submission to the lab of choice, our consultation with the lab regarding grading and any additional services requested, and insured shipping to and from the lab as well as your address (if required).

Please call for prices. Every lab has different fees and different levels of service.

Remanufacturing

Remanufacturing involves repolishing a diamond to either repair or update the cut. At AWDC, this has been our primary type of manufacturing since the late 1980's. Our factories, either here in the United States or overseas are at your service. Depending on the type of service you need and the time frame, as well as whether certification will be required afterward, will determine where and how the process will be completed. Every stone must be evaluated to determine the best options to maximize value. What you receive from us is knowledgeable, competent, and honest handling of your diamond from start to finish. This process is very unique to each diamond so please call for more info.

Please call for prices. Fees vary for size, shape and type of remanufacturing required.
